Riesneralm

The Riesneralm in Donnersbachwald is a true paradise for anyone who loves "more skiing, less lift riding." Four continuous valley runs up to 7 kilometers long ensure endless fun-from the summit to the valley.

Winter fun in all its facets: While the kids practice their first turns, the grown-ups can choose from 32 kilometers of varied slopes.

From the black Europacuphang to sporty mogul slopes to enjoyable descents such as "Die Schneidige" or "Die Sonnige." And those who like exclusivity can carve their way down the 5 slope. Here, everyone can find their own personal skiing highlight.

But the Riesneralm is also thinking ahead: with the industry's first snowmaking power plant, it generates both electricity and snow. 100% selfsufficient, 100% sustainable. This has earned it numerous awards, such as the gold trophy for sustainable energy management.

On the summit plateau near the Hochsitz, it's showtime almost every week! With atmospheric live music, the day of skiing is not only a sporting experience, but also a musical one.
